

October 03, 2025: On War Crimes, Illegal Spying, Threats, and Oppression

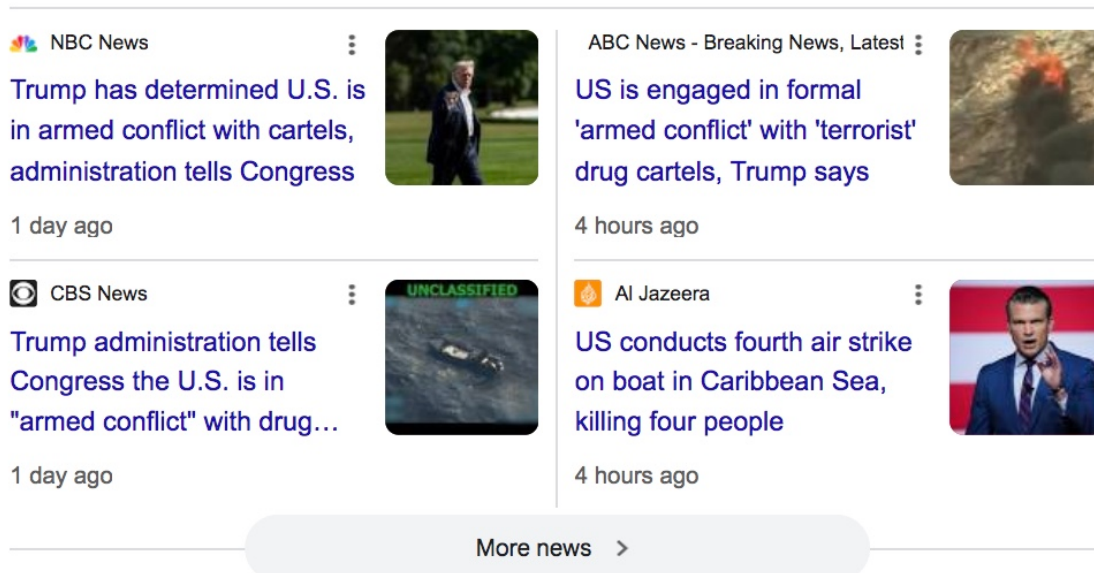

The war crimes being committed against Venezuela are showing the exact same pattern as the 'war' crimes being committed against our home and life.

This group of 'jokers', as they prefer to be defined (as opposed to Ronald MacDonald the kkk-klown), have invaded my home in the exact same way that they are invading Venezuela.

We were fervent supporters of Donald Trump's efforts to represent the interests of We, the People, while we believed that he was operating within the boundaries of the law. We were passionately representing the interests of all Americans in fighting for the release of voting records in Texas. We were advocating for others to give that 'joker' a chance.

The response of the team of jokers, that is Donald Trump, was to begin illegally spying on us inside of our home, attempting to unjustifiably force us to 'bow' to their wishes by causing us harm in our life, and to then repeatedly intensify their efforts until we reached the point that we are in right now: pure, unadulterated, repulsion from everything that Donald Trump says, does, and represents.

I cannot even go to the local grocery store for ice cream without being surrounded by Donald Trump signs and threats. 'We are listening to you. We are watching you. We are surrounding you.' These are the messages that his group of spies display to me in my life.

After ramming into our car (twice), boot kicking our car (once), and threatening me in my front yard with a gun, this group of jokers continues to double down every single day in their quest to display more and more power so that eventually they will obtain whatever it is that they are seeking. I truly don't believe they will ever be happy with the results of their illegal quest for continuous increases in power / influence.

Which brings us to the Venezuelan War Crimes that are turning into some sort of pro-active war against Venezuela on behalf of America because Donald Trump is an alcoholic? I have trouble piecing together their logic, but it began with murders and it continues to be more and more aggressive use of the exact same unjustified force - presumably until we all see this unjustified force as 'normal' or 'justified' again.

The force used to begin this 'war' on behalf of Donald 'AA' Trump was unjustified deadly force, and still continues to be unjustified deadly force. Yet, still in the exact same way that his team of 'jokers' invaded our personal home, he is continuing to 'up the ante' to aggressively invade the home of Venezuela.

I honestly don't care what Donald 'AA' Trump says that Venezuela is doing to America.

This type of aggressive use of the American military is a shameful display of how far beyond a justified use of force the American military is willing to go to 'earn' another tax-dollar. (How far they are willing to go to 'STEAL' another tax dollar)
